

Marxism Today

May 82

A close-up portrait of Tony Benn, an older man with grey hair, wearing a dark suit, white shirt, and dark tie. He is looking upwards and to the left with a thoughtful expression. The background is dark and out of focus.

THE WAR
ON WANT

War on Want is not like most other charities. War on Want seeks to eradicate the causes of world poverty, rather than simply treat the symptoms.

That's why when you give money to War on Want, you know it will be used to fund practical and progressive projects and campaigns which get to the root of the problem in Britain and in the Third World.

You can also become a member of War on Want for just £5. Or get your trade union branch to affiliate.

War on Want members take part in policy making, and help decide who will benefit.

Features

Tony Benn

Democracy and Marxism: A Mutual Challenge 6

Marxism has changed the world. Here Tony Benn, in the full text of the Marx Memorial Lecture, printed exclusively in Marxism Today, argues that British democracy needs Marxism and Marxism needs democracy.

Keith Dixon and Daniel Perraud

The French Experiment IS

The Mitterrand government is one year old. It is already the boldest Left experiment in Western Europe since the war. But what is it - and will it last?

Michael Pentz

Opportunity or Opportunism? 22

Both Reagan and Brezhnev have recently come up with new disarmament initiatives. But do they offer the peace movement anything?

Bob Rowthorn

Britain and Western Europe 25

The Left has been strongly anti-EEC. Yet Britain's integration with Western Europe is an irreversible and growing reality. How should the Left respond to this process?

Frankie Rickford

The Hidden Victims 32

Public transport has become a major political issue. But the plight of those most dependent on it remains neglected.
