Inside the Myth
Orwell: Views from the Left

Edited by Christopher Norris

George Orwell is often seen as a prophetic opponent of the socialist state; yet he always described himself as a socialist. This collection of essays examines all aspects of Orwell's writing. Contributors include Stuart Hall, Bea Campbell and Bill Alexander.

£4.95 paperback £12.50 hardback

New Autumn Books

May Day

John Sommerfield

One of the few experimental novels written on the British Left in the 1930s which is of enduring value. May Day offers a fascinating picture of the social and political life of London in the mid-1930s. £3.95 paperback

Last Cage Down

Harold Heslop

Set in a Durham mining village, this classic socialist realist novel (first published in 1935) tells the story of a bitter industrial conflict and the effects on its participants.

£4.50 paperback

Antonio Gramsci

Selections from Cultural Writings

Edited and introduced by David Forgacs and Geoffrey Nowell Smith

Gramsci, perhaps more than any other Marxist thinker, recognises the importance of 'culture' in political theory and practice. This volume makes available a full selection of his writings on the subject. £15 hardback

THE NUMBER OF CHILDREN WHO DIE THROUGH HUNGER IS EQUIVALENT TO
THREE HIROSHIMAS
EVERY WEEK

We all live in fear of a potential nuclear war. But millions of people in developing countries are part of another holocaust.

A silent holocaust. Hunger.

The statistics are grim. 500 million people go hungry every day. (That's the size of the entire population of Europe.) And 40,000 children will die from hunger-related diseases between now and tomorrow.

Yet the world produces enough grain to give every person on earth a nourishing 3,000 calories a day. Which is why Oxfam has launched a new campaign of hope.

We've called it 'Hungry for Change'. And it stems from a conviction that change is not beyond our reach.

But we cannot act alone. We need you.

First, arm yourself with the facts. (You'll find them in our free information pack.) When you're fully informed, spread the word. We'll tell you how you can campaign for the changes the poor so urgently need.

Please give us your support and fill in the coupon.

Because every one of us has it within our power to help. But only together can we turn back the tide of hunger.

OXFAM

I AGREE THAT HUNGER IN THE WORLD IN 1984 IS AN OUTRAGE. I'D LIKE TO JOIN THE 'HUNGRY FOR CHANGE' CAMPAIGN. PLEASE SEND ME YOUR FREE INFORMATION PACK. Send to: Guy Stinger, Oxfam, Room YJ09/Freepost, Oxford OX2 7BR

Comedia: New Titles

Reading by numbers:
 Contemporary publishing and popular fiction.
 By Ken Worpole.
 Both traditional literary criticism and 'radical' cultural analysis have so far failed to come to terms with the significance of the popular products of the publishing industry. In this study of contemporary publishing and popular fiction Ken Worpole examines both the economic and cultural dynamics of this cultural industry.
 ISBN 0 906 890 46 2. £3.95 paperback

Community, Art and the State:
 A different prescription
 By Owen Kelly
 Owen Kelly takes a polemical view of the way that community art has developed in this country, the way that development has been guided by the types of funding it has received, and the way in which it has often served the interests of the state, and the status quo, which it was allegedly seeking to change.
 ISBN 0 906 890 34 9. £3.95 paperback

International Image Markets:
 In search of an alternative perspective.
 By Armand Mattelart, Xavier Delcourt and Michelle Mattelart. With an introduction by Nick Garnham.
 Whilst Third World mass culture struggles for an outlet, American TV series like Dallas and films like Star Wars are as popular in the Third as they are in the West. The authors take an authoritative sweep through the facts of this new cultural imperialism.
 ISBN 0 906 890 68 3. £4.95 paperback

Order Form
 For every order of all three books (Cost: £10), Marxism Today gets £5. Or order separately by ticking the titles you want below. Please return to Comedia, 9 Poland Street, London W1V 3DG.
 I want all three books. I enclose a cheque for £10.
 I would like the titles ticked.  Reading by Numbers (£3.95);  International Image Markets (£4.95);  Community Art and the State (£3.95).

A Woman's Place

An Oral History of Working-Class Women 1890-1940
ELIZABETH ROBERTS

Based largely on the memories of those recalling their own and their parents' lives, A Woman's Place describes the life of working-class women in this period. It depicts vividly both their working lives and their times of leisure, describing holidays and courtships and discussing attitudes to sex and sexuality.
276 pages, £14.95 (0 631 13572 3)

Sexism, Racism and Oppression

ARTHUR BRITTAN and MARY MAYNARD

Sexism and racism are conventionally treated as two categories of the same type of oppression, yet attempts to explain them have failed to convince. This book argues that reducing all manifestations of oppression to the terms of class struggle is to present an incomplete picture, and it is a powerful addition to feminist and anti-racist literature.

Jarňáček Sung in English

A universal story of hope and struggle, From the House of the Dead is a searing testament to man's refusal to submit to oppression.

'An opera like nothing else... Set in the prison camp of Dostoyevsky's factual fiction, it is an unshrinking tableau of the prisoners' existence, changeless from day to day, desperate and atrocious. It sounds like a depressing evening, but in fact the performance is utterly riveting: harrowing, yes, but exalting.' The Times
