LABOUR RESEARCH

How does UK childcare provision compare with the rest of Europe's? Have sex discrimination laws done anything to improve women's job opportunities? Which company directors are raking in millions in dividends and fat salaries? Labour Research is the magazine that gives you all the answers.

It regularly covers pay and profits, privatisation, trade union law, equal opportunities, health and safety, political donations, state benefits and much, much more – all analysed from a trade union perspective. An annual subscription costs only £20.25.

SPECIAL OFFER Subscribe on this form and you will receive Labour Research free for a three-month trial period. If after three months you decide to cancel your subscription, we will refund your money in full.

A UK BILL OF RIGHTS? THE DEBATE BEGINS

I would like to subscribe to Labour Research and enclose a cheque/postal order for £20.25 payable to Labour Research Department.

star gazing

Astrology has never had much in common with Marxism. That's why the Communist Party has initiated Futures. Recognising that no one organisation will be able to champion and develop the politics of new times, this is a party conference with a difference. It's open to everyone.

Book early to avoid a disappointing decade (we can predict that!).

When the Manifesto for New Times was first published in June '89 who would have predicted that within six months the Berlin Wall would be down?

Interested? Futures will be held in central London on Saturday October 27. Committed to a dialogue around a new political culture of change, amongst those taking part will be Billy Bragg, Joan Ruddock, Andre Brie from the PDS (East Germany), Nina Temple, and Anthony Barnett of Charter 88.

YES please send me tickets for Futures of £8/5 (unwaged, with evidence of status) each.

YES please send me further details about Futures

YES I can help publicise Futures, please send me leaflets/ posters (these are free)

YES I want to join a party that is helping to shape the future, The Communist Party.

The Liberal Party is Back

Many readers will have been former supporters of the Liberal Party with a strong belief in Liberalism. Now the Party is back, able to give undiluted expression to Liberal ideas and issues.

The need for Liberalism has never been greater. In the face of a government that we believe acts in the particular interests of the better off and with the Labour Party still attached to many of the ideas so decisively rejected in the Liberal revolutions in Eastern Europe we need to assert Liberal ideas.

If you believe in a society where individuals matter and where no-one should be disadvantaged by virtue of their sex, origin, poverty, or requirement to conform and if you want to see all organisations in society acting in a socially responsible as well as an economically sound way, then help us.

MA in COMMUNICATION, CULTURE AND SOCIETY

Two years' part-time day course, attendance on Fridays. Applications are invited from students with a good Honours degree in an appropriate subject and who wish to undertake writing research or pursue a career in cultural studies, communications and related fields, or who are already engaged in some area of communication practice.

The course seeks to develop critical interdisciplinary perspectives on the relations between Communication, Culture and Society and is jointly taught by members of the Sociology and Communications Departments. Students take three courses. The core course common to all students concerns communication structures, media institutions and critical issues in the analysis of contemporary culture. Two further courses are chosen from: Contemporary Culture and Artistic Practice; Sport, Power and Culture; Cultural Reproduction; Mass Culture and Political Processes; Organisational Languages; Sociology of Health, Illness and Medical Care; Analysing Popular Culture; Biographical Studies. They also write a dissertation of 10,000 words on a research topic of their own choice.

Further information and application forms for admission in October 1990 are available from: The Faculty of Social and Mathematical Sciences, Goldsmiths' College, University of London, New Cross, London SE14 6NW. Tel: 081-692 7171 ext. 2228.

Hamlet

by William Shakespeare

For five years before Romania's revolution, the Bulandra Theatre production of Hamlet drew Bucharest audiences to an allegory of a corrosive regime. Hamlet is played by Ion Caramitru, who took a leading role in Ceausescu's overthrow and became a popular hero and vice president in the new government.

With the support of the International Initiative Fund of the Arts Council and Visiting Arts.
